

Hello!

My name is Molly and I answer curious questions from children about life on earth on my weekly podcast and in my books!

In 2021, Everything Under The Sun, came out. It was so popular with children I am now writing a new one and I need your help!

Everywhere Under The Sun is going to be the second book and, as you can guess from the name, I am going GLOBAL!

I need questions from children from all around the world.

If you have a question you'd like to send in, it might be chosen to be included in the book, or on my weekly podcast!

It can be about anything you are curious about – from animals, the earth, space, nature, culture, things humans get up to around the world, food, philosophy – and we'd particularly like questions about your country so that children in other parts of the world can learn about it!

If you have a question for Molly, there are two ways you can send it in:

You can type out your question and email it to molly@everythingunderthesun.co.uk

OR if you'd also like the chance for your question to be on Molly's podcast, she will need an audio recording of you asking the question.

You can ask the question in any language, as long as you send in an English translation, too!

Most phones have a recorder app – for example on iPhones it is called 'Voice Memos'.

Remember to say your name, your age, and which country you are from – and then ask the question.

Please email your question to molly@everythingunderthesun.co.uk – make sure you ask an adult for permission and help.

I can't wait to hear all of your wonderful questions!

Sending sunshine!

Molly
